The Honorable Deanne Criswell
Administrator
Federal Emergency Management Agency
United States Department of Homeland Security
500 C St. SW
Washington, D.C. 20472

Dear Administrator Criswell:

The Committee on Oversight and Accountability is conducting oversight of the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA or Agency) actions relating to disaster relief and recovery efforts following Hurricanes Helene and Milton. Recent whistleblower accounts allege that FEMA supervisors are deviating from the Agency's mission and limiting relief based on the political affiliations of disaster survivors. In light of these allegations, the Committee is seeking documents and information to ensure transparency and guarantee that disaster relief for Americans is not dictated based on political affiliation.

You recently testified before the Committee that there is no evidence that the reported "best practice" of "avoid[ing] homes advertising Trump"¹ extends beyond Ms. Marn'i Washington's supervisory role in Florida. However, recent media reports and additional whistleblower allegations suggest that political discrimination against conservative disaster survivors may be more widespread than you led the Committee to believe.

For example, on the condition of anonymity, a FEMA official stated that the practice of avoiding "white or conservative-dominated" areas is an "open secret at the agency that has been going on for years."² Additionally, another whistleblower contacted the Committee during the hearing. This individual informed the Committee that a FEMA contractor warned a disabled veteran's family in Georgia to remove Trump campaign materials from their home because FEMA supervisors viewed Trump supporters as domestic terrorists.³ Also during the hearing, Rep. Greg Steube stated he had heard from 35 constituents "with specific instances in which they were either overlooked or specifically discriminated against because of their political affiliation.”⁴

The Committee is in the process of investigating these claims. If they are true, they would corroborate concerns that political discrimination extends beyond Ms. Washington. Furthermore, they suggest an apparent culture, whether sanctioned or not, within FEMA to politically discriminate against disaster survivors, specifically those who support President-elect Donald Trump. The Committee finds these practices unacceptable and reprehensible.

During the Committee’s hearing, you testified that FEMA is “prepared to support requests for information” from Congress.⁵ Therefore, to assist the Committee’s crucial oversight into discrimination by FEMA employees and the potential political weaponization of the Agency, please provide the following documents and information relating to FEMA disaster relief and recovery efforts following Hurricanes Helene and Milton no later than December 6, 2024:

1. All Disaster Survivor Assistance surveys and incident reports with notes referring to survivors’ political affiliation, including but not limited to references of Trump or campaign materials;

7. Any reports or complaints from survivors in FEMA Region 4 about their homes not contacted by FEMA personnel, or more broadly, about apparent political discrimination since Hurricanes Helene and Milton;

9. All documents and communications in the “Crew 33 (The GREATEST)” group chat, including all accompanying, uploaded, or imbedded attachments and documents; and
10. The Committee has learned that Ms. Washington and her team were visited by three FEMA personnel on or around October 30, after the whistleblower complaint was filed. Please provide the names of these individuals.

The Committee requests that FEMA provide Committee staff a weekly update on the status of the Office of Professional Responsibility’s (OPR) investigation into these matters and that OPR provide the Committee with its findings and a briefing at the conclusion of its investigation. In addition, the Committee requests a briefing with Ms. Washington’s Task Force Lead Chad Hershey, as well as the highest-ranking FEMA official with specific responsibility over disaster relief efforts in response to Hurricanes Helene and Milton in Georgia. To schedule the briefings or to ask any related follow-up questions, please contact the Committee on Oversight and Accountability Majority staff at 202-225-5074. Attached are instructions for producing the documents and information to the Committee.

The Committee on Oversight and Accountability is the principal oversight committee of the U.S. House of Representatives and has broad authority to investigate, “any matter” at “any time” under House Rule X. Thank you for your prompt attention to this important matter.
